Skills

As a beginner web developer, I am excited to begin my journey in the development field where I hope to apply some of my previous experience as a Business Analyst. I am currently enrolled in the Rutgers coding bootcamp, where I have been learning HTML, CSS, and other web development tools. I have been applying these skills in class mini-projects and weekly challenges. I am a quick learner and highly motivated, and I am looking forward to learning new skills as the Rutgers bootcamp continues.
